

ALPAQERA BY ALPAQAYTU CUSCO-PERÚ

This year, we've created a collection inspired by the women who raise alpacas in the Peruvian Andes.

It's made with hand-spun yarn in natural and dyed colors that evoke the natural beauty of those regions.

We invite you to enjoy it!

These pieces from the collection feature the natural colors of alpaca fiber, without dyes or the use of additional water. They are crafted from regenerative alpaca fiber using hand-knitting techniques and feature an oversized fit.

The yarns in the collection were hand-spun using a mix of different thicknesses in the creation of the garments.

Items made from merino wool in the natural color palette of alpaca.

Hand-dyed pieces, each one unique; colors in cool and warm tones to balance the look.

A set of yarn in vibrant colors and felt pieces with lace to complement alpaca outfits.

This collection was spun by our master craftswomen Betty, Paola and Juana and was co-created with the Suri Textile Association
